

Regional news in brief

Clinic hosts COVID vaccine clinics

HOOD RIVER –One Community Health (OCH) hosts a series of family-friendly COVID vaccine clinics. OCH’s clinics in Hood River and The Dalles and will include vaccines for ages five years old and up, vaccine boosters for those eligible, as well as free food, hot cocoa, crafts for kids, holiday lights, and much more.

The events will include:

Pfizer, Moderna, and Johnson & Johnson vaccines, including the 5-11 year-old specific doses, free food boxes for the first 100 households who participate at each location; and ornament-making stations, prizes and holiday treats.

Clinics are scheduled for 3-8 p.m., Wednesday, Nov. 17 at the Hood River facility, 849 Pacific Ave., Hood River; and 3-8 p.m., Friday, Nov. 19, at The Dalles, 1040 Webber St.

People can sign up at https://www.onecommunity-

health.org/CovidSafeHoliday.

Clark College offers series of concerts

VANCOUVER – The Clark College Jazz Band presents its “Fall Concert” at 7:30 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 20, in the Fort Vancouver High School Auditorium, 5700 E 18th St., Vancouver.

The performance is free. Donations to the Clark College Music Department are welcome at the door. Masking, socially distanced seating, and contact tracing sign in are required.

The Clark College Treble Ensemble and Clark College Chorale present their free Fall Concert at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, Dec. 2, in the St. Luke’s San Lucas Episcopal Church, 426 4th Plain Blvd., Vancouver.

Donations to the Clark College Choral Fund will be accepted at the door. Masking, socially distanced seating, and contact tracing sign-in is required.

The performance is under the direction of Dr. Jacob Funk with accompaniment by Dr. Sophie Christian and Dr. Jeongmi Yoon.

The repertoire is varied and features selections in Norwegian, Spanish, and English.

The Clark College Orchestra will present its free Fall Concert at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, Dec. 1. The concert, featuring Orchestra Strings, will take place at VSAA/Durst Theater, 3101 N Main St., Vancouver.

Works include “Serenade for Strings” by Elgar, “Elegy” by David Avshalomov, “Simple Symphony” by Britten, and “Nara Variations” composed by orchestra Music Director/Conductor Dr. Donald Appert.

Donations to the Orchestra General Fund will be accepted at the door. Masking, socially distanced seating, and contact tracing sign-in is required.

For more information, go to <http://www.clark.edu/campus-life/arts-events/music/music-concerts>.

#StevensonStrong

Friday, November 26 is
PLAID FRIDAY

Celebrate and support
local, independent businesses
as an alternative to Black Friday!

Wear plaid. Love local.

Shop & eat at participating Downtown Stevenson merchants on Friday, Nov. 26 and get a reusable #StevensonStrong plaid shopping bag:

stevensonmainstreet.org

#StevensonPlaid